

International Freshwater Bivalve Conference

Consequences of increasing summer aridity and rising numbers of beaver and otter for conservation of Freshwater Pearl Mussel and other freshwater bivalves

Wednesday 26th April – Friday 28th April 2023

Hof, Germany

1st announcement

Habitats of Margaritifera margaritifera in northeast Upper Franconia in summer 2022

leben.natur.vielfalt
das Bundesprogramm

Gefördert durch:

Bundesministerium
für Umwelt, Naturschutz, nukleare Sicherheit und Verbraucherschutz

aufgrund eines Beschlusses
des Deutschen Bundestages

Bundesamt für
Naturschutz

Bayerischer
Naturschutzfonds

Important conference information

Date	Wednesday 26 th April – Friday 28 th April 2023
Registration	Registration is open from now to February 28 th 2023 by mail under: info@bund-naturschutz.com
Registration fee	130 € (incl. social evening with dinner and beer tasting)
Abstract Submission	We welcome your abstracts for oral presentations and posters until March 31 st 2023
Oral Communication and posters	Each oral presentation should take 30 minutes maximum (20 minutes for presentation and 5 to 10 minutes for discussion) in Microsoft Power Point format. Posters will be presented during the whole conference. Poster dimension: A 0
Social Evening	Conference dinner at Culinarium in Hof and beer tasting at the brewery Meinel
Scientific Committee	Jürgen Geist (technische Universität München, Germany) Marco Denic (Landkreis Passau, Germany) Ondrej Spisar (Bivalvia, CZ) Wolfgang Degelmann (Bund Naturschutz, Germany)
Contact	Bund Naturschutz Hof Auguststraße 1, 95028 Hof, Germany E-Mail: degelmann@bund-naturschutz.com Tel: +49 9281 16306 Fax: +49 9281 2371

Please feel free to forward this document to anyone who could be interested in this conference. Thank you!